MyHealthMath report cards: Did you know that many employees are in the wrong health plan? Are you one of them? Find out by opting in to receive a MHM Report Card. The report cards compare your actual medical information reported by Harvard Pilgrim against your current plan offerings to show you how well you did selecting your plan last year. You can see what you could have saved so you can make a better decision this year!

What is MyHealthMath? MyHealthMath (MHM) is a third-party service available to you free of charge! If you engage with MHM they will create a personalized report that outlines our health plans in order of estimated cost savings based on your own medical usage. Please note that although they do not offer benefit consultations, they do have plenty of health insurance resources on their website!
